BETTER LOGISTICS — DESIGNED FROM THE GROUND UP

The global marketplace relies on precise logistics, and EFW has been designed specifically to be the better solution for that ever-increasing demand.

EFW's powerful business model is built upon providing our clients the best combination of service and value. Not only do our people take that responsibility seriously, but our hybrid structure empowers us to bring perfect solutions together. We understand your business is unique and our blended solution allows us not to be limited to a single transportation company.

Your relationship with EFW simplifies your supply chain because of our comprehensive array of services. We are proud to provide you an immense network of pre-screened contracted carriers in addition to our direct access to Estes Express Lines' vast fleet. We not only deliver extraordinary flexibility and affordable pricing, but also an array of specialized solutions that we create for you. Your logistics solution is just one call away with EFW.

We listened to our customers' needs for truly specialized expertise, so we created vertical market teams to provide the customization and flexibility that your business requires, far beyond asset-based solutions. From the time-critical requirements of automotive OEMs to the complex logistics and security needs of government agencies, our highly-trained experts will handle the specialized requirements of the most demanding industries.

To ensure reliability and consistency, EFW has 100% company-owned stations — all of them ready to demonstrate our commitment to quality service. Our stations provide consistent, dependable processes to deliver you and your customer an unmatched experience. Our centralized Control Tower model lets us effectively ensure quality from pickup to delivery. You receive 24/7/365 EFW team support and real time information that you and your customer can count on.

All of this is supported by Estes Express Lines' 85 years of experience and their extensive nationwide footprint. When you need a logistics company with the perfect equation of customer focus, vertical market expertise, scalability and flexibility — EFW is your logistics solution.

EFW CORE ABILITIES

DEPENDABLE

In a world where commerce is the universal language, EFW is a better shipping solution for today's business. Our teams of committed employees deliver consistent, reliable services, regardless of your destination, shipping volume or handling requirements.

DOMESTIC — NORTH AMERICAN COVERAGE

Our people, our hybrid structure and our network of company-owned stations and resources throughout the United States can handle all kinds of opportunities. Whether it's economy, expedited or white glove — shipped by ground or air — we can coordinate your domestic delivery.

GLOBAL — DELIVERING COMPREHENSIVE SERVICES

Now you are equipped with total flexibility of any combination of air, ocean and ground transportation for any destination, any volume, any handling. Through our in-house customs brokers we are able to be your one-stop global logistics provider.

TRUCKLOAD — A BIGGER NETWORK MEANS BETTER SERVICE

Our extensive truckload network capacity and customer service teams deliver you access to our network of truckload providers, with everything from dry vans, refrigerated trucks, and flatbeds to specialized equipment you may need. It's a system designed to make you faster and more competitive, with flexibility, low rates, 24-hour support and door-to-door service.

AND SO MUCH MORE

Door-to-door, dock-to-dock, domestic or global, the EFW blended model creates the perfect equation of flexibility and scalability for all your logistical needs. Everything we do for your business...from the dedicated teams, SOPs, pricing, and even the way we answer the phone...helps create the best experience for your customers.

EXPERTISE FOR VERTICAL MARKETS

TEAMS

Today, many clients need customization, flexibility and vertical expertise. Below are just some of the service-focused vertical markets where our highly trained experts excel.

AUTOMOTIVE OEM

Automotive manufacturing is complex and time-sensitive, so we move every critical piece to meet or exceed service. Clients depend on us to provide clear communication and data at every step during the transit process.

EXHIBITS

Our record of flawless deliveries will ensure that your trade show is a success. We know that "the show must go on," and you can count on EFW to see that everything is in place.

GOVERNMENT

We'll help you meet your critical mission — no matter how obscure the destination, how challenging the logistics or how sensitive the cargo. We are dutiful to the existing regulations, and have extensive experience with the most exacting government entities. Our past performance demonstrates EFW's scalability in meeting the most rigorous government parameters and mission.

HEALTH SERVICES

With expensive and highly technical medical equipment, our service goes beyond timely shipping. We find ourselves installing in clean rooms, labs and diagnostic facilities with service that can be tailored to the most critical specifications.

HIGH TECHNOLOGY

We truly stand out in the last mile, where our specialized partners are focused on technology and understand the requirements of your fragile, high value equipment and what it takes to minimize the risks. Additionally, we have flexible insurance options, so you're assured your investment has been protected.

PROJECT BASED LOGISTICS

This team supports your logistics needs for hotel refreshes, construction projects, reverse logistics, rollouts, restaurant builds, and regional support for disaster recovery — we step in right after materials are purchased, and take the process from there. EFW can put a team on site, take responsibility for production, find docks and storage space, and set up transportation and distribution — taking the complexity out of challenging logistics.

HomeNOWSM

Retailers depend on EFW as a leader in the industry for delivering heavy and bulky shipments to their customers. This is because we designed HomeNOW to be flexible in ALL aspects of the retail supply chain. So if you and your customers depend on choices like confirmed flexible delivery, no signature required, removal of packaging, white glove assembly service and guaranteed customer satisfaction — then EFW is your next call.

RETAIL

When you have a store reset, refresh, roll out, peak period surge or grand opening, we're there to make sure it all goes off without a hitch. The EFW retail team specializes in delivering time sensitive and high value products with an understanding of the intricacies and obligations of retailers.
